For the Post. HIWASSEE COLLEGE.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22d, 1859. Mr. Editor:--Knowing you to be a warm friend of education, and all pertaing to literature, I hasten to give you a short account of the festivities attending the close of the session at Hiwassee College, from which I have just returned.

The examination of classes commenced on Monday and continued till Wednesday, 114 A. M., when it was adjourned to give the students time for arranging the Hall for the celebration of the Anniversaries of the Literary Societies, to come off on the next day. Being present at a greater part of the examination,
I had ample opportunity to observe the thor oughness of scholars in the respective branches. The readiness with which questions were answered when proposed by others than the respective professors, was ample evidence of the thoroughness of the instruction, and clearly showed that the whole session, and not a few days only, had been devoted to preparing for the examination—that their knowledge was the result of study and not of a few days drilling.

hung lowering over did not detain visitors at home. A great number of ladies and gentle. men were in attendance-so many that the Hall was by far too small to contain them .-The Madisonville Band was in attendance and filled the Hall with melodius strains,-The time having arrived, orations were delivered by members of the Literary Societies in which considerable skill, both in composition and oratory, was displayed. The representatives of the Societies made short and eloquent addresses to the members of their respective bodies. The exercises were closed with a farewell address by Mr. E. F. Lilly, who being about to leave College for the West, bade farewell to the Faculty and stu-

Notwithstanding the drawback which the College experienced a few years ago, it is now in a prosperous condition, and never before were its prospects to success more flattering. While a subscription is going around for out ward improvements, improvements in the literary department have not been neglected. The course has been revised, and the best text books have been introduced. Certificates of scholarship are issued to those who complete certain branches. The institution is on rising ground. It looks forward to a large patronage, and it well deserves it, since it offers greater facilities to young men to obtain a thorough education than any other institution of similar grade in East Tennessee. It is situated in a region unsurpass ed for health-in the country, far from temp tations of city life and the allurements of fashion and vice. The professors are gentlemen of high literary attainments, and are unsurpassed as teachers. The Boarding house, now under the superintendence of President Bruner, affords a pleasant and desirable resi dence for students, so that parents and guardians can scarcely select a better and safer place to send the youth under their care, and young men, who have to rely on their own resources could find no more suitable place to educate themselves than Hiwassee College.

The College is under good headway, and all wancing a thorough education will do well to start at Hiwassee on the 7th of next month, when the Spring Session begins.

Don't Wast $30,000,000 .- The special cor respondence of the Cincinnati Gazette con tains the following, from which it will be seen that the Administration are about to take water on the Cuban purchase question :

The Washington States denies, in authoritative language, that the President has deaired the presentation of the bill placing at his disposal thirty millions for the purchase of Cuba. It says that the circumstances for a purchase were never so unpropitious as now, and we could not hold it by force against article recommends procrastination, and con-eludes as follows:

"If it were allowable to discuss so grave a measure in the light of party expeciency, we would suggest that the Democracy could not stand up under the burden of reproach to which the Cuban Caucus exposes them. The folly of the movement has been detected all ready by the Opposition journals, and they have raised an energetic clamor of corruption against the dominant prrty. If we proceed to justify the charge, the consequences will be disastrous to our ascendency. Even now there is too much ground of accusation against the Democracy on the score of extravagant and impolitic expenditure.

An outlay of $100,000,000 for the support of government; a deficit of several millions in the aunual acceunts, and a rapidly increasing public debt are incumbrances which the Democratic party will sustain with difficulty, if at all. Every year we seem to drift further and further from the old land-marks of State rights and economy, which have hitherto directed our policy.

Every year we impair the force of the Republican principles which gave us our hold on the popular heart, and which have so far sustained on ascendency. It is time the Democracy were arrested in this progress of degeneracy and decay, else they will be precipitated from power sooner than the advocates and beneficiaries of prodigal expenditure anticipate in their present enjoyment of comfortable places and sufficient stipend." "If it were allowable to discuss so grave a

IT IS A COMMON OBSERVATION that there are It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility among Americans than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business—in all such cases, ordinary medicine can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting-house, the exhausted tailor upon the shop board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgot ten that the agent which is so magical in its cious medicines. But it should not be forgot ten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely de bilitated, is equally powerful in assisting na ture to expel the most terrible forms of dis-case. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

For the cure of Dyspepoia, Indignation, Nan Flatmiency, Low of Appetite, or any Bill Complaints arising from a morbid inne of the Stomach or Europe, producing Oran Dysniery, Calle, Coulorn Morins, de.

Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Barcels, producing Cramps. Dysantery, Colic, Coloren Morban, &c.

In view of the fact that every member of the homan family is more or less subjected to some of the above complaints, best-less innumerable other conditions in life, which, by the assistance of a little knowledge or exercise of common sense, they may be abla so to regulate their habits of diet, and with the assistance of a good tonic, secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is, certainly, that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life; for this end Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation called HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which at this day is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease. Diarrhos, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent when taken in all its various forms, than any other; the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTER'S as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physican will recommend Bitters of some kind, then why not use an article known to be infailible? Every country have their Bitters as a preventive of disease, and strengthening of the system in general, and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which has attended to advance the destiny of this great preparation i the destiny of this great preparation medical scale of science.

FEVER AND AGUE.

This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentiess grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short space of time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be defeated and driven from the body by the use of HOSTATTE'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, any of the storic stated diseases can not be contracted when exposed to any ordinary conditions producing them, if the Bitter are used as per directions. And as it neither creates nauses not offends the palate, and rendering unnecessary any change of diet or interruption to usual pursuits, but promotes sound steep and healthy digestion, the complaint is thus removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permisment cure.

For Persons in advanced years Who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and inflem body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restora-tive of strength and vigor, and needs only to be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing, these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands Stomach Bitters is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and before so doing, ask your physician, who, if he is acquainfed with the virtues of the Bitters, will recommend their with the virtues of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CATTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hosterter's Cheesaaten Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
